240 Attend St. Mary's Open House Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27, St. Mary's Church held an open house from two to five for the purpose of explaining to all interested persons the meaning of their church rituals, including holy communion, confession, baptism, what each vestment worn by the priest stood for and to answer all questions concerning the church asked by the visitors. The church, church school, convent, priest's home and hall were also open to visitors. Two hundred and forty visitors signed the register, a very gratifying turnout. It is hoped that a better understanding of the Catholic faith will result from this and other open houses held throughout the diocese.

St. Mary's parish was established as a mission in 1881. In 1885 St. Mary's Church, now St. Mary's Hall, was erected on four lots at the corner of Peninsular and Lake streets, donated by Joseph Charon. In 1908 St. Mary's Grayling, was established as a permanent parish with the Rev. Father John J. Reiss as its first pastor. Also, the Sisters of St. Joseph convent, formerly the Rectory was built.

In 1950, the growth of the community and the establishment of numerous tourist attractions brought in many parishioners and visitors and the church was taxed with overflow crowds. A pledge drive was opened headed by the Rev. Fr. John Breitenstein, to finance a new church and school.

The year 1951 was a busy one with many hours of labor donated by the priest and parish members to make their dream of a new church and school come true. The first mass was celebrated Christmas at midnight that year.

The Solemn Blessing and Dedication of the new church and school was held June 29, 1952. The seating capacity of the church is 150 with a mass schedule of five masses on Sundays during the summer and three during the winter. The present pastor, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Sakowski, was appointed to the parish in 1956. His present quarters are in the home built by Mrs. C. R. Keyport and the late Dr. Keyport in 1915 and purchased by the parish in 1936.

Eight grades, one through eight, are taught at St. Mary's School. The faculty consists of one principal and two teaching sisters from the congregation of St. Joseph and one lay teacher. There are 145 students enrolled this year. In addition there are forty high school students and thirty-one grade school students in the public school who attend a Christian Doctrine classes once a week. Teachers this year are, Sister M. Camille, Sister M. Adelard, Sister M. Ruth Bernard and Mrs. Lois Southwell.

The Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph was established in France in 1650. In 1836 a small group came to St. Louis, and from there the Sisters branched out to many places in the United States and Canada.

The open house was sponsored by the Diocesan League of Catholic Men and Women. Perry Wells was chairman of the affair here. He was ably assisted by Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Bud Gould, Mrs. Richard Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishaw, Miss Vicki Wells, Miss Karen Bobenmoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley LaGrove, Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Mauren, Leland Marshall, Mrs. Cyril Houle, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Meisac, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trudgen, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lovely, Mrs. Les-Goss, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Dorsch, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lovely, Mrs. Jack Sted, Mrs. Jack Hassmussen, Lawrence Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young. Refreshments were served in St. Mary's Hall by Mrs. Bertha Peterson, Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, Mrs. Larry McNamara, Mrs. Wilfred Laurant and Mrs. Richard Huber.

Pearson spent Wednesday night at the Pineaire Motel south of Grayling at the intersection of old US-27 and M-76. He kindly turned down an invitation from Grayling Mayor Larry McNamara and City Manager Harold Cliff to be driven back into Grayling for a dinner Wednesday evening. Pearson stated that he ate very lightly while on one of his marathon walks and get a little sleep.

He is carrying with him invitations to 25 mayors of communities along the route to attend dedication ceremonies for the opening of the new highway Nov. 1 at a point midway between the Sault and St. Ignace.

Pearson started at the U.S. Canadian boundary in the center of the Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge at 11:00 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 20, and planned to complete his hike at Sylvania, Ohio, on the afternoon of October 30.

The Crawford County Board of Supervisors in their regular October session the middle of this month levied a total tax in the county for 1964 of $276,133.72 for an increase of $54,121.46 from the year before. The 1963 levy total was $222,012.26.

The 1962 tax levy was $231,814.28 and in 1961 was $254,737.80. Of the total 1964 levied county government will receive $95,115.00. In 1963 county government received $90,575.74 and in 1962, $93,156.38. Also to be raised for the county for a new jail building fund and not for operation is another $10,743.37. Last year $17,016.54 was added to the building fund.

Life To Devote Nearly Six Pages To Fred Bear's Grizzly Hunt

The Nov. 8 issue of Life Magazine will carry a five and one half page feature spread of pictures and story concerning Fred Bear's 1963 grizzly bear hunt in the British Columbia trip. The article is to contain 3,500 words and tremendous full color photos of the hunt.

Don Moser, Life Associate Editor, and Bob Halmi, Life photographer, personally accompanied Fred on this latest exciting trip. No less than twenty-three grizzlies were seen and photographed on this thrill-packed, wilderness expedition. Mr. Halmi is the same photographer who accompanied Mr. Bear on his tiger hunt in India. The two men were houseguests at the Bear home before the start of the British Columbia trip.

This is the finest advertising for the sport of archery ever published and a feather in the cap of the local industry.

The large layout in a magazine, with the magnitude of circulation which it has nearly world-wide will bring the best publicity to Grayling and Crawford County which it has ever had.

Scouting in Grayling Seems Doomed

Red Cross Needs Your Help

Everyone in Crawford County is being given an opportunity to contribute to an organization that has been helping others for 100 years, the Red Cross. Without your help it can not help.

We have been fortunate in our county not to have had a disaster requiring the help of Red Cross. However, our home service program, which is in the charge of Mrs. Leo Jorgenson, who is also the county secretary for Red Cross, is a very active program. A full report of this activity will be printed soon.

I don't think anyone is overjoyed when asked to go out and knock on doors "for a worthy cause." They do it because it is for a good cause and they wish to help. Even if you can't give or do not wish to, please be courteous to the worker calling on you. Those helping with this drive, in addition to those already reported, include Derek McEvers, Chairman of the Grayling business district, assisted by Jerome Kessler, Mrs. James Thompson, Larry McNamara, Melvin Nielson, Mrs. Jack Cook, Mrs. Oscar Goss, Arnie Mauren, Dick Dodge, Dick DuBois, Jerry McEvers, Pat Kahoun, Art Clough Sr., Leonard Knibbs, Jim Duley, Mrs. Russell Wright, Don Koch, Mrs. Glenn Sawyer, and Mrs. Bob Strong.

Bea Hildebrand, Chairman of Grayling residential district, has helped Helen Feldhauser, Pat Kurhake, Iola Broadbent, Billyann Brown, Anna Gross, Ruth Baker, Dorothy Dykema, Beverly Wilcox, Barbara Johnson, Anna Stoddard, Madeline Kucharek, Joan Papendick, Rita McEvers, Ruth Isenhaus, Lida Goodrick, Agnes Nelson, Bernie Mauren, Mary Messenheimer, Ruth Steinbrink, Shirley Bonamie and Joyce Bourrie.

Rev. Ernest Ladd, County Chairman, announces that Jess Skinner will solicit in Maple Forest and Mrs. Ben Garland, Beaver Creek east of US-27.

There are no workers at Lake Margaret or Beaver Creek. Any one living in these locations or any others who are not called upon and who wish to contribute may leave their donations with Mary Jorgenson at 407 Maple, or Eva Strong at the Avalanche.

"Make Haste Slowly"

The tortuous progress that the Administration's tax reduction bill has been making toward eventual enactment provides a significant and interesting example of changes in thinking that have been taking place in this country, and in Congress.

The tax bill is at the very heart of Mr. Kennedy's economic program. It is, he argues again and again, the essential force needed to stimulate economic growth, to provide more goods and services, to create more jobs, to increase the general standard of living, and to strengthen the nation all along the line.

The President and his advisors would have had good reason to believe that a tax reduction bill would make its way through Congress with much less difficulty than in the present case. In the past, tax reduction has offered about as sure-fire an appeal as anything could. Bills have gone through with next to no debate. Here is the most tangible of all ways, Congress has felt, to make the folks back home happy.

It is very different now — not because tax reduction isn't wanted. It is. But there is grave concern over how best to achieve it without creating new and formidable dangers.

It is argued, for instance, that balanced budgets are a shibboleth, and that deficits can be almost a way of fiscal life for a nation without undermining its economic strength and stability. In other words, in effect, this theory holds that a nation is not comparable to a business or a family. It is something to which the usual rules do not apply. But this theory has not been tested, and a great many people believe that the policy which would follow its acceptance could be absolutely disastrous.

There is strong feeling that any tax cut should be accompanied by a proviso that federal expenditures also be reduced, and that the Administration pledge itself to hold spending during coming fiscal years to a stated amount. An amendment to this end was defeated in the House, but by a comparatively narrow margin.

There is also the belief that even an $11 billion overall tax cut would not mean a great deal to the average family, and would not materially spur spending and purchasing. A corollary here is that the whole tax system needs drastic overhaul, and that this should come first.

The tax bill — considerably amended — has passed the House. But is it due for some rough manhandling in the Senate, where Senator Byrd is chairman of the all-important Finance Committee. There is a good chance, perhaps even a likelihood, that no action will be taken this year. And, now, Senate priority has been given to civil rights legislation.

Actually, very little of the Administration's domestic program has gone anywhere at all. Parts of it — such as the training plan for young people and urban mass transportation, are in a sickly condition.

Some of the Administration's most dramatic ideas are finding the reception cool too. The man-on-the-moon project is one. A price tag of some $40 billion has been tied to it, though no one can really know now just what the cost would be, or if it practical at all. In any event, more and more opposition is appearing, on the grounds that the gains would be tenuous at best, and that this is no time to devote so gigantic a sum of money and resources to it.

In sum, the mood of this long-sitting Congress can be fairly said to be one of growing caution. "Make haste slowly" comes pretty close to being its motto.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice Sunday

Jim Branch works in our local bank. I've known him for years. We went to school together. But I never felt I could come right out and ask him why he never goes to church. One night when we both happened to get into a confidential frame of mind, the words came easier.

He told me that — of all things — it was because he hated this business of passing the plate for money. He said he saw enough money at the bank all week without seeing it worshipped on Sunday too.

I admit this shocked me. That's why I told him, frankly, that I thought he'd completely missed the point. I told him our minister once said that it gives him a good feeling when he receives the collection; not because this is money but because the people are giving the fruit of their own efforts to God. In the old days, it might have been a sheep, or the choicest fruits and vegetables from the harvest. Today, it's dollars and cents. But the motive is still the same, and it's a good motive.

I saw Jim at the morning service a couple of weeks ago, and something tells me that it won't be long before he'll be getting the point — not missing it!

HASKELL - STEPHAN VOWS EXCHANGED

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Marvin, Stephan are at home at Luke Margrethe since their marriage on September 28, 1963. Mrs. Stephan is the former Linda Ann Haskell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Haskell of Owosso, Michigan. Her late husband was the son of Mrs. Eva and the late Henry Stephan of Grayling. They were married at 3 o'clock Saturday, Sept. 28, in the Lovells Community Chapel, with the Rev. Claire F. Olin performing the double-ring ceremony before one hundred guests. Music was by Mrs. Paul Henion at the organ, with a duet of "Because" by the Misses Judy Smith and Elva Ward. Yellow and bronze mums and gladioli formed the setting for the marriage.

For her wedding Miss Haskell chose a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon, the bodice with long tapered sleeves and Sabrina neckline, the bouffant skirt in tiers of ruffles with side panels of lace. Her silk illusion veil was secured by a pearl and sequin crown. Her flowers were white carnations and red roses in a cascade bouquet.

Mrs. James Forsythe of Owosso was matron of honor. She wore a gown of yellow nylon with white snuff embroidery, accented with a wide yellow cummerbund ending in a bow in back. A circular veil was held by a yellow crown covered with pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow mums.

Roger Hatfield was best man. The bride's mother chose a sheath dress of navy blue with metallic brocade. Mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue crepe sheath dress with white accessories. Their flowers were corsages of white carnations.

A dinner for the wedding party and immediate family was held at the Sportsman's Club following the wedding. In the evening there was a reception at the same location, the building having been decorated with pink and white crepe streamers and white wedding bells. The newlyweds made a trip to northern Michigan afterwards for their honeymoon.

Mrs. Stephan is a graduate of Perry High school, at Perry, and of Mercy School of Practical Nursing in Grayling. Her husband graduated from Grayling High school and is employed at Clair's Service in Grayling.

Attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. James Forsythe and Stanley Haskell of Owosso; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Nethaway of Perry; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Haskell of Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Andrews of Okemos; Mr. Ed Miller of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fountain and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith of Winn; and Miss Judy Asselin of Bay City.

Legion Auxiliary News

Twenty-six ladies turned out for the Legion Auxiliary Halloween costume party held Tuesday, Oct. 22nd. An evening of fun was thoroughly enjoyed, the entertainment being quiz games, an old-fashioned spell-down, a fortune telling booth, and final refreshments of popcorn, doughnuts, cider and coffee.

Prizes were awarded to Lora Gould for the most original costume, to Lida Goodrick for the cleverest, and to Miss Pattie Nelson for the funniest. Pattie was a guest of junior Auxiliary members Monica Stephan, Pamela and Deyanne Gibson and Joy Ann Rasmussen, with Marie McIsaac also a guest. The junior members participated in the games and their activities were very welcome. Senior guests were Mrs. Ellen Bensing, Mrs. Lida Goodrick and Karen Macaulay.

To Celebrate 47th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnahan of M-73, two miles east of Grayling, are to observe their 47th wedding anniversary on Nov. 4. They have lived here for 2 1/2 years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan were born in Port Huron. Henry quit school at the age of 14 and sailed on the Great Lakes for 8 years, serving as a fireman. The couple was married in 1916 by his great uncle, Geo. Smith, who was a Baptist minister in Port Huron. Henry sailed for one year after, but decided it was no job for a married man. They moved to Pontiac where they lived for 12 years. Returning to Port Huron they both worked for the Muler Brass Company, he as a pipe-fitter. Leaving Port Huron they moved to Skandia near Marquette in the Northern Peninsula, where he again plied his trade as a pipe-fitter at the Lavine Brothers Plumbing and Heating Company. Henry belonged to the Marquette Plumbers Local No. 414 for 12 years while in the Marquette area.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan belonged to the Salvation Army for 15 years in the U.P. and for 7 years in Pontiac. They helped with what he called the "Kettle," better known as the soup kitchen, in Pontiac during the dark days of the depression.

They have one son, Joe, living in Marquette, and five grandchildren, two boys and three girls. One of the boys is serving in the army in Germany.

When asked why they decided to come here to retire, Mr. Carnahan said they had been friends of and befriended by Al and Jessie Siegart for some 25 years, and it was through this association that they left Marquette and came to Grayling.

The Carnahans are looking forward to their son visiting them on Nov. 15 for a belated celebration.

Freeway Hiker

giving the appearance of a sprightly 15 years younger, has been walking as a hobby for the past 43 years. He is convinced that his marathon walks, from 100 to 1,500 miles, have helped to keep him young and have helped alleviate ailments ranging from heart and lung trouble to color blindness.

The Sault to Ohio Freeway which Pearson is walking is the nation's longest toll-free superhighway. In his walk he passed through 16 Michigan counties - Chippewa, Mackinac, Emmet, Cheboygan, Otsego, Crawford, Roscommon, Clare, Isabella, Midland, Bay, Saginaw, Genesee, Livingston, Washtenaw and Monroe.

All of Michigan's freeways are barred to pedestrians, but Pearson received special permission to make his walk from the Michigan State Police and the Michigan State Highway Dept. A spokesman for the State Highway Dept. said that this will be the first - and last - time that anyone will be permitted to walk the route.

SUPPLY LINE

For the average American family, a welcome break in routine arrives when mother returns from her periodic trip to the grocery or supermarket. The kids will hustle about, eager to help "unpack" shopping bags to discover just what "goodies" may be found therein.

It's pretty much the same thing when mother shops local department stores. Her return is eagerly awaited. Excitement is aroused, too, if mom is looking at a new appliance, or if dad is thinking about a new car.

What all this amounts to, of course, is the fact that most Americans are used to the good things in life... and something else that most of us seldom consider. Local merchants—the grocer, the hardware store, the appliance dealer, and right on down the line—do a pretty good job of anticipating our needs and making available to us the things we want, when we want them.
